

Kaufman Homework Policy

Homework is an important part of education to reinforce what was taught during class. It can also be an important time to finish work that is critical to what we are doing in class. I promise that all of my homework given will be meaningful and not time consuming.

Students are expected to complete all assignments given by me, or another teacher.

I will check their homework as part of our morning routine every morning. If you have any notes for me, please write them in their agendas, you may also email if that is your preference 😊.

If homework complete is then I will place a sticker student's homework tracker.

A student may miss one homework assignment and they will still receive a prize for Homework Wall of Fame!

If homework is not complete for an inexcusable reason (incomplete, illegible, 2nd or 3rd time offenders of forgetting homework at school, etc.) then my students will have to stay in for ALL of their recess to redo or complete their homework, as well as completing extra educational work to fill the time.

If homework is not complete for an excusable reason (parent note, first time forgetting), students will only have to stay in for the time it takes to complete that homework.

If students are making a habit of forgetting their homework (missing homework 5 times or more), I will contact parents so to make sure you are aware, and so we can set up a plan to help your student to get into a better routine.
